

Biography for
John P. Bianco
USACE (Corps of Engineers) Special Assistant for Dam Safety,
HQUSACE, Washington, DC

John P. Bianco, PE – Serves as the Corps of Engineers (USACE) Special Assistant for Dam Safety, HQUSACE, Engineering Division, Dam & Levee Safety Branch. Has been performing a wide variety of National leadership roles within the USACE Dam Safety Community of Practice (CoP) to include acting as the HQ proponent to improve effectiveness and efficiencies within the Regional Dam Safety Production Centers and performing as Chair for USACE’s Dam Safety Steering Committee (DSSC).

Supports the USACE Prospect Training Program as an Instructor in developing newly developed training module sessions designed for knowledge transfer within USACE internal PROSPECT Dam Safety DS-101 and DS-102 training sessions. Acting as the lead USACE proponent for the establishment of Dam Safety practices and principals related to the United States DoD Dam Safety Programs.

Holds a Bachelor's Degree in Civil Engineering from Rutgers University, New Brunswick, New Jersey and a Master of Science Degree in Engineering from Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore, Maryland.